

AND/OR in Art Exhibit

Capri's versatile AND/OR rubber cork flooring product was selected for this temporary art exhibit in New York City. AND/OR offered the desired aesthetic and acoustical benefits, while meeting the strict VOC emissions requirements of a space with original artwork.

Since the exhibit was temporary, the flooring also needed to be temporary without damaging the permanent stone floor. To accomplish this, Consolidated Carpet installed a loose lay membrane over the existing stone, then adhered the AND/OR to the membrane. As illustrated by the pictures of the exhibit, the temporary installation method was a success.

