

Background

Capri introduced the customized ColorRite acrylic caulk line to help contractors correct AND/OR, Manhattan, Re-Tire or Fitness & Rec installation errors and issues related to gaps at seams, vertical surfaces and perimeters in order to provide a uniform appearance. ColorRite can also be used to help hide repairs.

The ColorRite acrylic caulk line was developed using the solid colors in the AND/OR, Manhattan and Re-Tire product lines - the colors granules used to manufacture these colors are used in all of our recycled rubber products. Below is a list of the available colors in the ColorRite line, as well as a crossover list when using the ColorRite caulk with colors not on the standard list.

Additional Information

When Ordering ColorRite caulk, please use the standard/stocking color names listed above.

For colors that have more than one crossover color, it is likely that there are two dominant colors in the blend. To ease decision making, compare a sample of the AND/OR or Re-Tire colors listed with the color you are trying to match and choose which color you feel best matches.

For colors that are marked "User's Choice", there may not be a clear dominant or base color. To ease decision making, compare samples of any of the standard AND/OR or Re-Tire colors to the color you are trying to match and choose which color you feel best matches.

Caulk Installation

ColorRite acrylic caulk is intended to be used to fill minor gaps between seams or caulk around vertical surfaces and fixtures. Ensure that initial maintenance has been performed and that a finish has not been applied prior to using the ColorRite caulk. Use a residue-free releasable tape (such as 3M multi-surface "blue" tape) to cover both sides of the seam or the perimeter of the flooring material and the adjacent vertical surface / fixture to prevent over-spread.

Once tape is applied, use a suitable caulk gun to apply ColorRite into the gap or void. Use a plastic putty knife to spread the caulk into the gap or void, ensuring caulk is smooth and flush with the blue tape. The caulk should be slightly higher than the flooring material.

Immediately after application, remove blue tape and any excess caulk from the flooring material. Caulk will take 30-60 minutes to dry - avoid foot traffic until fully dry. ColorRite caulk should have finish applied, especially when applied in the field of a flooring installation - allow caulk to cure overnight prior to applying finish.
